

You want to make money, right? To bring more members into your affiliate marketing networks?

To do that, you need to draw visitors to your websites. More visitors = more money.

But how do you draw more visitors when you're outranked by websites with million-dollar marketing budgets?

The Internet has been revolutionary. It has allowed entrepreneurs like you and me to sell our goods and services in a global marketplace like never before. And it has opened up a whole new world of affiliate marketing that absolutely dwarfs pre-Internet network marketing opportunities. Yet the big guys - large, established companies with huge Internet marketing budgets - still reign over the rest of us.

Think about how the typical web surfer finds a website: First, she runs a keyword search in a search engine like Google or Yahoo! The search probably yields several thousand results - hundreds of pages of links. Maybe the surfer looks at the first three pages of links, or maybe she simply picks one from the first page and clicks through.

Why is that important? It means that if your website doesn't come up on the first page you're not likely to be found.

The problem is that the websites that are ranked highly with the search engines - those that come up on the first page of results - are owned by big companies with big budgets. The little guys don't pop up until pages 10, 100, 1000 where they gather dust (so to speak).

So what can you do?

Level the playing field with Webmaster Profits.

By pooling our resources we can create a website that will draw traffic like the big guys' websites do.

Webmaster Profits is a membership program that does just that, for entrepreneurs like you who don't have the time, expertise, or money to create and manage a highly-ranked, content-rich, well-designed website of your own.

Webmaster Profits draws first-time visitors by maintaining a unique, content-rich site. And we keep those visitors coming back by offering them access to reliable, useful, free information.

What's in it for you?

Webmaster Profits offers you a way to attract a high volume of web visitors at a price you can afford. Because Webmaster Profits is a membership program, the resources of all our members can be pooled to create the high-volume drawing power of the big companies with millions to spend on Internet marketing.
